MAYOR ASSAILED AS 'KNOCKER' OF B. R. T. SYSTEM

Stephen C. Baldwin Argues for Change of Venue in Malbone Wreck Cases.

Arguing in support of his motion for a change of venue for the B. R. T. officials indicted on charges of manslaughter as a result of the Malbone Street wreck, Stephen C. Baldwin, attorney for John J. Dempsey, Vice President and Superintendent of the B. R. T., flung a verbal barrage today into the District Attorney's office, the Public Service Commission, Mayor Hylan and the press in general.

The motion was argued before Justice Stephen Callahan in the Supreme Court, Brooklyn. Mr. Baldwin described the wreck as "more horrible than the worst defeats of the Allied armies, because it brought darkness and sorrow to our very doors." He said it had created, particularly in Brooklyn, a demand for retaliation, and this demand had been inflamed by stories printed in the newspapers.

"The press," said Mr. Baldwin, "was the straw in the balance that destroyed the equilibrium of justice. I believe a fair and impartial trial cannot be had in this district."

After taking a fling at the Public Service Commission and the District Attorney's office, Mr. Baldwin said: "The Mayor never overlooks an opportunity to denounce the B. R. T. if 'knocking' the B. R. T. elevates one in political life Mayor Hylan ought to be President of the United States some day."

Concerning the newspapers Mr. Baldwin said:

"The press stories of the accident played up the shocking details in such a manner as to cause the public to dread to use the B. R. T. system."

"The B. R. T. has been like a target in a rifle range, for twenty years, being the butt for any person who desired to make a public statement."

The lawyer described Col. Timothy S. Williams as the guiding star of the B. R. T. for thirty-nine years. "And during all that time he has been the public target for all manner of complaints," he said.

3 KILLED, 10 OVERCOME IN HOME BY SEWER GAS

Aged Woman and Two Boys Die and Others in Jersey City Family Are in Serious Condition.

Mrs. Louise Tovia, eighty years old, and her two grandsons, Michael Tovia Jr., eighteen years, and Antonio Tovia, fourteen years, are dead, and ten others in the same family are in the hospital, having been overcome by escaping sewer gas in the home of Michael Tovia, No. 115 Colden Street, Jersey City, to-day.

Michael Tovia, son of the old woman and father of the two dead boys and his wife and eight of their children are in the City Hospital. Their condition is serious.

When Tovia did not appear for work this morning his employer, John M. Crossby, a truckman, went to the Tovia house and found the stricken family.

The police found a leaking sewer connection in the cellar of the house.

BROOKLYN GIRL OF 15 MISSING FROM HOME SINCE DECEMBER 21

Josephine Arena, fifteen years old, has been missing from her home at No. 1848 Pitkin Avenue, Brooklyn, since Dec. 21, and her brother, Thomas Arena, has again appealed to The Evening World to aid in finding her. He says a reward will be paid for information leading to her discovery. He adds that Josephine's mother is dying, and that any one who knows of the whereabouts of the girl will perform a service of mercy by communicating with the family at once.

Josephine has a scar, left by a boil, on the right side of her chin. Detectives who followed a clue which seemed to lead to West Virginia, have returned with the announcement that Josephine has not been seen there. The only reason for thinking she might have gone there was that a girl formerly employed with Josephine by the American Tobacco Company at No. 513 West 22d Street, Manhattan, had lived there before running away from this city shortly before Josephine was missed.

Simple Way To End Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.—Adv.

GRAND JURY ACTION AGAINST MILKMAN HINTED BY DOOLING

District Attorney's Investigation of Situation Resumed After Week's Recess.

District Attorney Swann's investigation of the milk situation, halted a week ago, was resumed to-day before Chief Magistrate McAdoo. Among the witnesses to be heard are Board of Health inspectors and officials and members of the Dairy-men's League.

Assistant District Attorney Dooling, in charge of the inquiry, intimated that cases against members and officers of the league would be presented to the Grand Jury for alleged illegal acts to stop farmers up-State from sending milk to New York City.

Mr. Dooling said proofs of violence and threats were in his possession, and that this lawlessness opened the way to prosecution of the Dairy-men's League, which could not claim exemption under the amended anti-trust laws.

"I have every reason to believe the acts were the result of carefully made plans which originated in this city, and therefore can be prosecuted here," said Mr. Dooling.

Scores of reports have come from up-State milk centres regarding the methods of the league. One farmer near Truxton, N. Y., who has been delivering milk to the Sheffield Farms plant there, said he had been compelled to stop by threats. Another farmer wrote that he got up one morning to find all his milk destroyed. The Board of Health reported that 1,501,465 quarts of milk were received here to-day, which is 83 per cent. of the normal supply and the largest amount that has been received in one day since the strike began.
